

ABOUT LESLIE TOTH

I was born and raised in Budapest, Hungary. Following an early childhood dream I become a sound engineer by trade and worked in the music industry for many years. I specialized in live sound reinforcement and worked behind the scenes of concert tours, festivals, and theater productions with a number of major recording artists from all over the World.

In the mean time in 1988, after five years of courtship I got married to my beautiful wife Irene and we left our homeland for our honeymoon which lasts to this day. We eventually landed in Canada later that year and settled down in Calgary, Alberta.

Starting a new chapter in life in a foreign country, in a foreign language, out of four suitcases and $25 in our valets might not have been a young couples dream, but it was truly a purifying, life altering experience and adventure.

Adapting to Canada's unique landscape of show business required new skills, like driving heavy trucks, learning production and tour management, accounting, marketing and sales, yet it gave us the opportunity to establish ourselves, reach our goals and start a family. Our daughter is now an art student in university and our son is quickly turning to be a teenager.

In 1995 I faced another fork on the road. Years of chronic back pain resulted of diagnosis of a severe Degenerative disc disease, which no longer allowed me to meet with the heavy physical demand of my profession.

I started with Penncorp Life Insurance Company in November 1995. Given my background and condition made my decision to sell disability insurance to the self-employed seemed quiet logical. I really enjoyed building a new career, reaching all milestones, awards and goals a direct sales company defines for its agents. Within a year I found myself in senior management and was able to build and manage a very successful insurance agency over the next decade.

Representing my CLIENTS' best interest and the increasing need to provide fully integrated financial services made it inevitable to progress in to be a truly independent broker. In January 2007 I joined The Premier Financial Group Inc.

About the same time, I was also introduced to a revolutionary medical device, based on energetic medicine which not just liberated me from the dependency of serious pain killers, but to date continue to delay the urgency of a painful back surgery. I quickly became an advocate of the technology and for a few years contributed a lot of my efforts on the executive level to alternative medicine as well.

I currently serve as the President of The Premier Financial Group Inc., striving to provide guidance, in a relaxed, stress free work-environment to our agents, while maintaining the highest integrity, our clients can trust.
